Technology is an inseparable part of our lives these days. It is normal to see a group of friends sitting on their phones instead of talking to each other. Maybe, even you are an example of a such behavior. It's sad, that we can't appreciate the advantages of our surroundings. As a society we should learn how to value other things, not only the ones we can find in our phones.

Let's look at things from another perspective.

(break and some landscapes, photos without text)

For example …at our city.

(break and some landscapes, photos without text)

…at its art,

History,

Traditions,

Nature,

And beauty.

Napis : I love Łódź